A Word of Approval.

THE EVENING WORLD is justly entitled to the credit of procuring the prompt discharge of FREDERICK WITTE, who was erroneously- accused of assaulting and robbing Mrs. SAMUELS, of West Houston street, in her apartments last week. When WITTE was arrested for the burglary THE EVENING WORLD, which gave the first intelligence of the crime, was struck by the seeming sincerity of his protestations of inaccence. It therefore put sharp reporters on the case, who discovered how every minute of Witte's time had been passed on the day of the robbery and satisfactorily proved that he could not be guilty, despite his positive identification by Mrs. SAMUELS while under hysterical delusion. Yesterday Witts was fully and honorably discharged. But for THE EVENING WORLD'S he would doubtless have been de tained some time in prison, even if he had succeeded in establishing his innocence at
